Guest Speaker: Christy Hiemstra - Clovermead Bees & Honey

Creating a buzz. That's what Clovermead Bees & Honey know how to do very well. Christy and her husband Chris used an innovated marketing strategy to create additional value from the honey they produce. It has raised public awareness of the importance of honey bees in Ontario food production by educating and entertaining farm guests about the fascinating world of honey bees. The operation produces value-added honey spreads and offers a variety of interactive farm displays and tours for school groups and visitors.
